PSB Introduces Imagine Loudspeaker Range to UK

Canadian Manufacturer's Latest Series Offers Excellent Value for Performance

The all-new Imagine series of loudspeakers from Canada's PSB Speakers, is designed to become a standard of value among audio and home-cinema fans for whom real-world sonic performance is the salient criterion of excellence. Yet at the same time, PSB expects the Imagine models to reset expectations of just how an "affordable-high-end" loudspeaker can look, and of the quality standards to which they can be crafted. The Toronto based firm, for 35 years acknowledged worldwide as one of the leading creators of high-performance speakers, expects the PSB Imagine to find instant favour among discerning buyers who covet the widely admired abilities and arresting forms of its acclaimed Synchrony designs, introduced one year ago, but who have been deterred by those models' not inconsequential cost.

"The Imagine line-up is the latest example of what PSB does best," says company founder and chief designer Paul Barton, known the world around for loudspeaker-design acumen and high-value, high-performance standards. "That is, to make top-of-the-heap sonics and quality accessible to the widest possible range of potential owners".

The three Imagine family models that will be available in the UK may well be the finest visual presentation for proportion, sculptural form, and visual detail in PSB's long history. The Imagine T three-driver, two-and-a-half-way tower full-range floor-standing design, and Imagine M two-way stand/bookshelf-mount are intended primarily for front-channels/stereo playback. The Imagine C is a dual-woofer, horizontal two-way centre-channel speaker. All three Imagine models share a common driver family, with an all-new, very high-output 5.25-inch woofer, and an impressively wide-band and ultra-accurate, titanium-dome 1-inch tweeter inspired by the unexcelled performance of the Synchrony high-frequency unit.

UK Recommended Retail Prices

Imagine T (3-driver tower) £1200.00/pair

Imagine M (two-way stand/bookshelf £600.00/pair

Imagine C (2-way centre-channel) £480.00/each.
