PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Attention

TEAC'S REFERENCE 600 SERIES SETS NEW BENCHMARK IN COMPACT AUDIO COMPONENT SYSTEMS

New Flagship Reference Series Components Combine Elegant Style, Excellent Build, Class-Leading Facilities and Sumptuous Sound

During over 50 years of design and manufacturing – regardless of technology changes – TEAC has maintained its original aim of achieving the ultimate in sound quality from its audio products. Now, with the new TEAC Reference 600 Series, that aspiration is realised once again, and is masterfully combined with some of the most technologically innovative and advanced features available in hi-fidelity separates today. The new Reference 600 Series comprises the AG-H600DNT Stereo Internet-Radio Receiver with DAB and the matching PD-H600 CD Player, both finished in superb black aluminium with a cool blue illuminated display. Development input is by TEAC's high-end Esoteric team - responsible for some of the most revered cost-no-object digital replay systems in the world.

Audiophile-grade components are used throughout and all-new circuits have been carefully re-designed to simplify the audio signal path, thereby minimising signal degradation. The amp section sports discrete dual-mono topology and a top-notch transformer

The impressive roster of up-to-the-minute facilities, includes Internet Radio using Frontier Silicon Venice 6 module (the best currently available) and built-in tri-band wi-fi - making 10,000 radio stations accessible from the comfort of your armchair. The DS20 optional iPod Dock supports iPhone; remote control of iPod/iPhone playback and video output and the front-mounted USB port gives easy connectivity of external digital sources.
