PRESS RELEASE

OmniMount's environmentally responsible OmniLite Series

Manufacturer confirms eco-friendly OmniLite flat panel wall mount line-up

OmniMount, the leading manufacturer of consumer and commercial A/V mounting and furniture solutions, has confirmed the line-up of its environmentally-conscious OmniLite Series. As consumers demand more eco-conscious products, the OmniLite Series provides installers with innovative solutions that are easy to use and environmentally responsible.

The £80 OL125FT (for screens from 23"-45") and the £90 OL200FT (for screens measuring 42"-70") are engineered specifically to reduce the amount of material by 32 percent while actually increasing each mount's overall strength – and therefore weight capacity – by 56 percent, in comparison to current competitive models. These flat panel mounts offer fixed and tilt functionality in one slim-profile, efficient form-factor.

Both designs feature condensed packaging and streamlined hardware kits. Additionally, manuals and installation templates for each product will be printed on the inside of the box eliminating the need for unnecessary paper. The OmniLite Series will also utilize 100-percent recyclable internal packaging with no plastic bags, post-consumer recyclable outer box material and non-petroleum-based ink for all package printing.

The OmniLite Series is the perfect flat panel TV mount for custom installation professionals, and their clients, seeking consumer electronics and accessories that complement their "green" homes and lifestyles.
